NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON INDIAN ECONOMY AND ITS PEOPLES TODAY: CURRENT RESEARCH AND THEORY

It is being claimed that today Indian Economy is fifth largest economy in today's world and sooner than expected will become 3rd largest world economy replacing China. Following first five countries of the world are said to occupy first five ranks in world economy.

Rank	Country
I	USA
II	Russia
III	Peoples Republic of China
IV	France
V	India

Now Democratic Republic of India is 'Viksit Bharat' (Developed Nation) and 'Vishwa Guru'. Question is how has India achieved it? What is the quality of life of people of India? Has poverty, hunger, illiteracy, unemployment, etc disappeared from India? Is India self-reliant on its own Science and Technology? Is education and research in India superior to education and research in USA, Russia, France, China, Japan, etc? Has brain-drain from India disappeared? Is India free from all kinds of violence and social conflicts? etc, etc.? How does economic and social theory explain India's superior achievements? etc, etc.

ICSSR and its 28 Research Institutes are deeply engaged in socio-economic research since 1969. About 1000 universities, IITS, MNITIS etc, too are engaged in research on all issues related to socio-economic development of India, National Institute of Transformation of India (Niti Ayog) which replaced Planning Commission is the body deeply engaged in charting out path of socio-economic development of Swaraj India. Besides, there are hundreds of NGO's, subjects Associations, Science academies engaged in some or other related activities of development in India. All these can provide correct scientific understanding of Swaraj India's spectacular development of and charting out better path of development capable of helping India achieve its goals of 3rd or 2nd or 1st position on the scale of development in today's global world.

It is, therefore, proposed to organize a National Seminar on 'Indian Economic and its Peoples Today: Current Research and Theory' between August 15-17, 2025 at Prayagraj. Iswar Saran Post-Graduate College & Indian Social Science Academy seek cooperation and participation of universities, Research Institutes and Post-Graduate colleges, IITS, MNITS, CSIR Institutes, ICSSR and its Institutes, ICMR and its Institutes, DST and its Institutes, ICHR, ICPR, etc. etc. active cooperation and support in planning, organizing and participation of the proposed seminar meaningfully and creatively.
